THE CITY OF NEW YORK
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
NEW YORK, N.Y. 10007

December 5, 1973

DEAR STUDENTS

It is an honor for me to contribute to the "Comet" and I thank you for asking me to do so.

One of my major concerns during my Administration has been the quality of education for the more than 1.4 million students in our school system.

As public servants and concerned citizens, we must strive to make available the best possible educational opportunities for our youth.

Our students are one of this great city's most valuable resources. You have the promise and the potential to contribute to New York in every area -- the sciences, business, the arts, education and the many more possibilities that make our city the rich and exciting place it is.

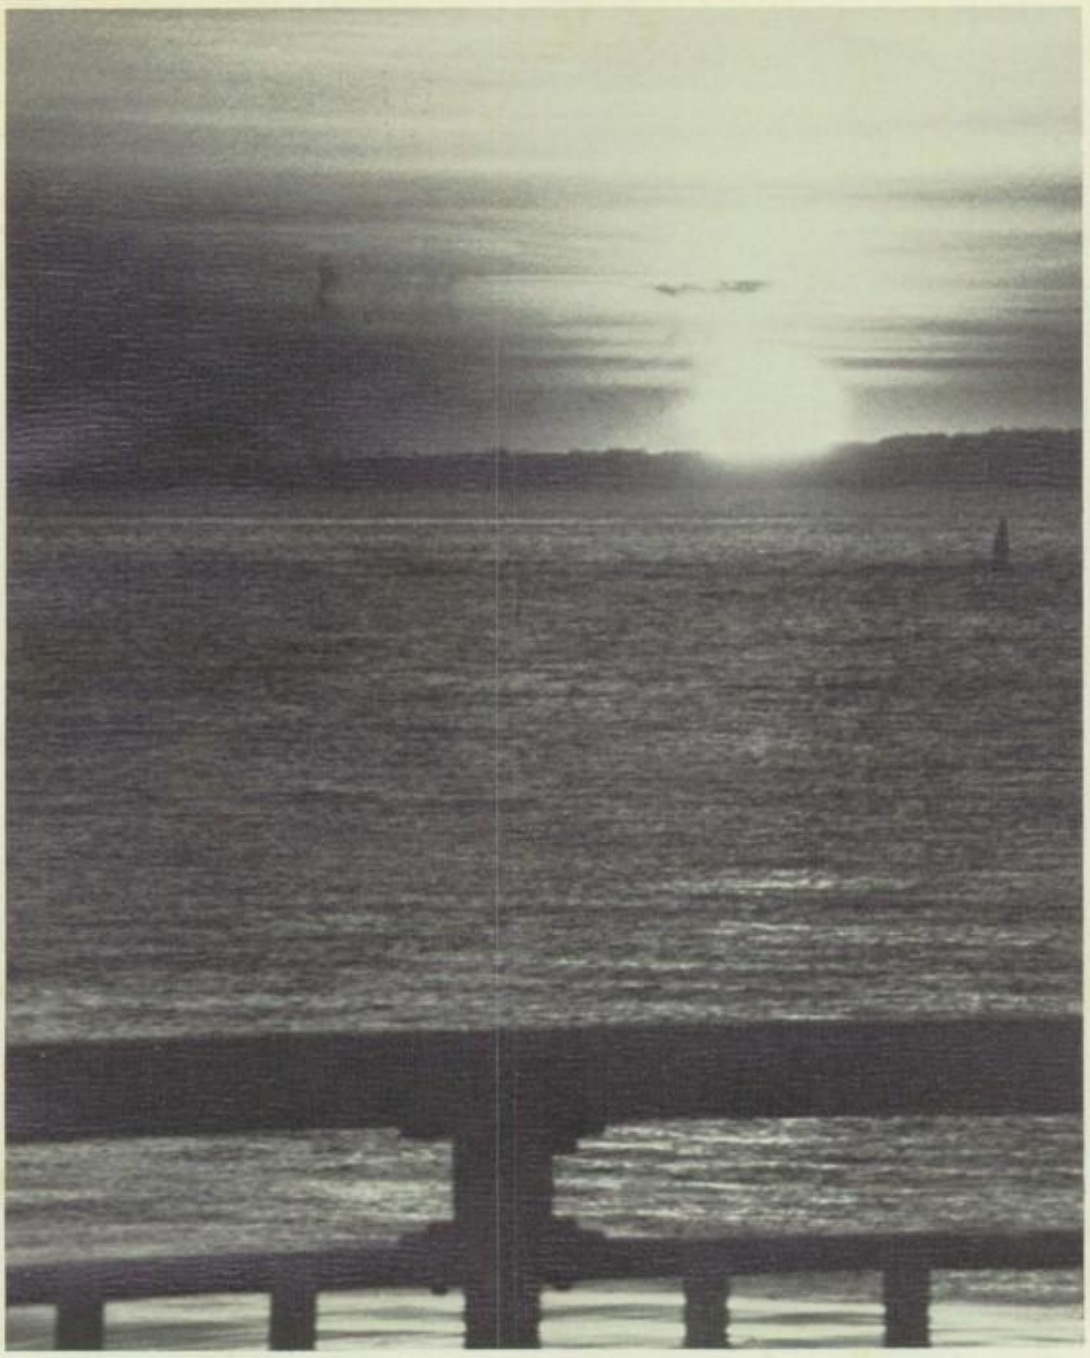
Today there are fields of endeavor which were not dreamed of years ago. In your four years of high school, you have seen the ascendance of computer technology; the increasing sophistication of space travel; rapid progress in medical research and knowledge, and many other developments.

There are far more choices now than even five years ago, some complex and bewildering. But I am sure that you will face the many challenges and opportunities admirably and make this city even greater in the coming years. Best wishes to you all.

Sincerely,

John V. Lindsay

John V. Lindsay
MAYOR



The story goes that there once was a discontented man living on one side of a river, longing to see what was on the other side. In desperation he sat and thought of ways to cross the river. He longed to reach the other side to start his life again, to find his fortune, satisfy his curiosity, and to find himself. And with his hands he built a bridge, suspending it over the river until it reached the other side. He crossed it and began his new life. And then there were Bridges.

Bridges represent a great crossing in people's lives, whether connecting two pieces of land, schooling to careers, or two friends. We as graduates have crossed many bridges and will continue to cross many more as we finish high school and go on to either college or career, to look for new friends, and cross to places we've never been to before.

Our senior year at New Utrecht marks the one hundreth anniversary of the Brooklyn Bridge and the seventy-fifth anniversary of the consolidation of New York as a city. The staff of Comet would therefore like to dedicate Comet'74 to the Brooklyn Bridge, our connection to the city, and to present to you, the graduates, a look at your home, our city.

We, as the future inhabitants of New York, must understand the city, be aware of the things it can teach us and offer us, in order to appreciate it as "a hell of a town!"

— Staff of Comet '74

NEW UTRECHT HIGH SCHOOL

OFFICE OF THE PRINCIPAL

Dear Graduates,

Your years at New Utrecht have flown by and now we are at Commencement. Commencement signifies a beginning and an end. It is the beginning of a new phase of life for you, either in higher education or in a career of work. It is an end of our efforts to train you for what lies ahead. If we have done our job successfully to prepare you for this future we have given you not the answers or solutions to the problems you will face but rather the intellectual curiosity to recognize the problems and the intellectual powers to solve them.

As you make your way in life we all wish you every success and happiness and hope that whenever your thoughts stray back to New Utrecht you will remember us fondly.

Sincerest best wishes,

Michael A. Russo
Principal

Mr. Herbert Potell
Assistant Principal

Mr. Milton Kestenbaum

Miss Helen Stember
Senior Advisor

Dear Student,

Now your high school days have come to an end. This past year was what you looked forward to from the first day you entered the portals of New Utrecht High School, and it is gone.

I hope you will remember this final year at New Utrecht as a happy and exciting one. Your class officers and Senior Cabinet worked very hard to make it so.

I thank all the Seniors for the wonderful cooperation they gave me throughout the year. In return, I wish you all a happy and successful future.

Sincerely yours,

Helen Stember
Senior Advisor

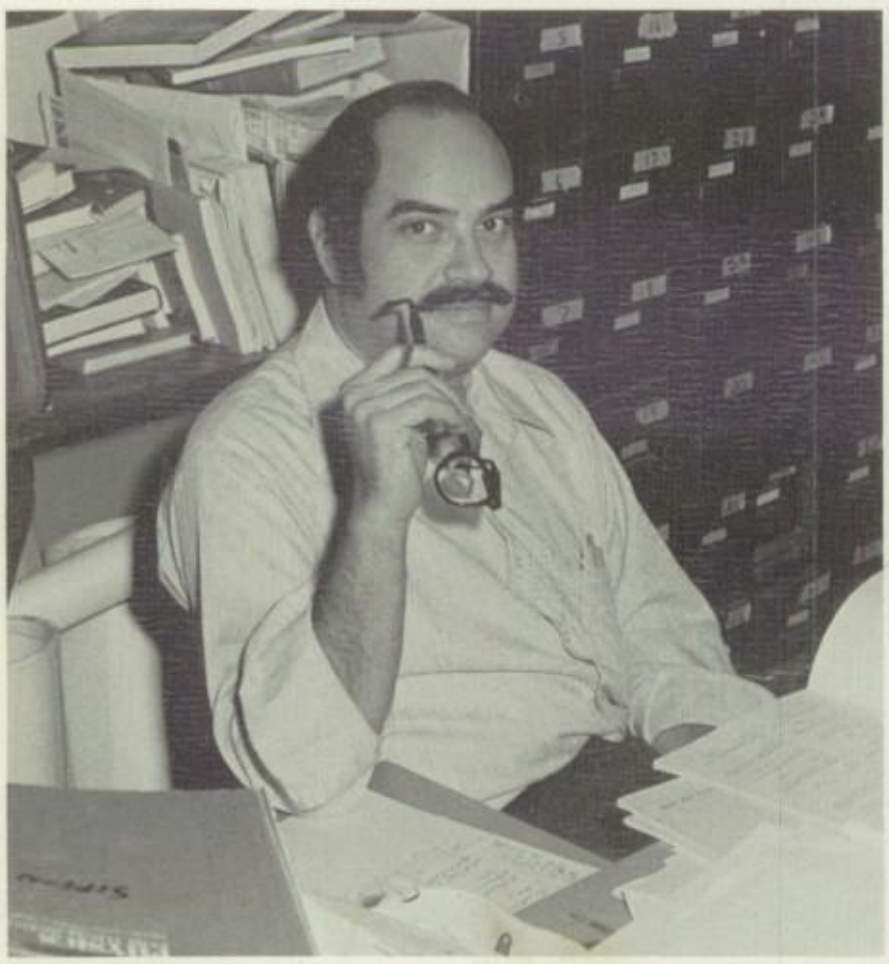
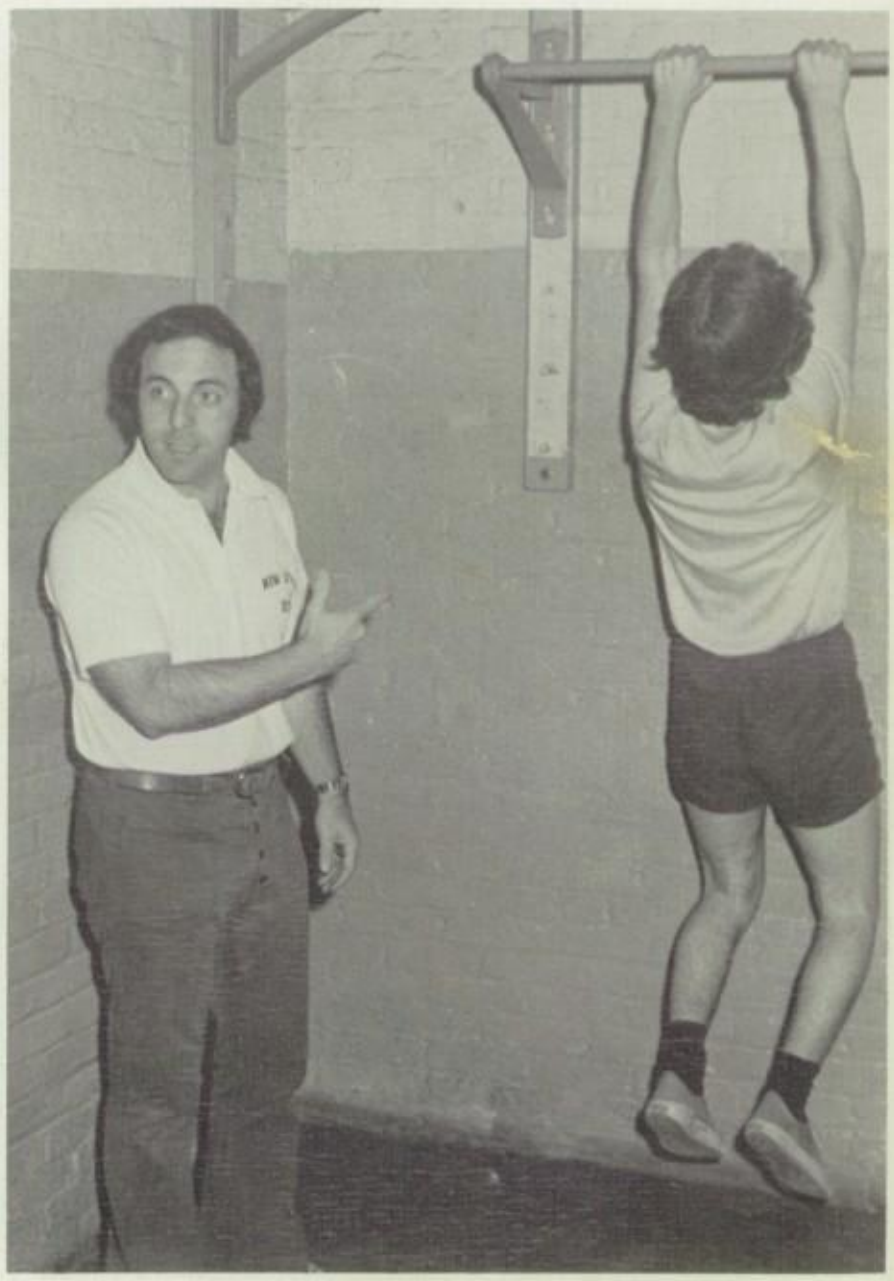
"My mother told me about Ultra Brite . . . "

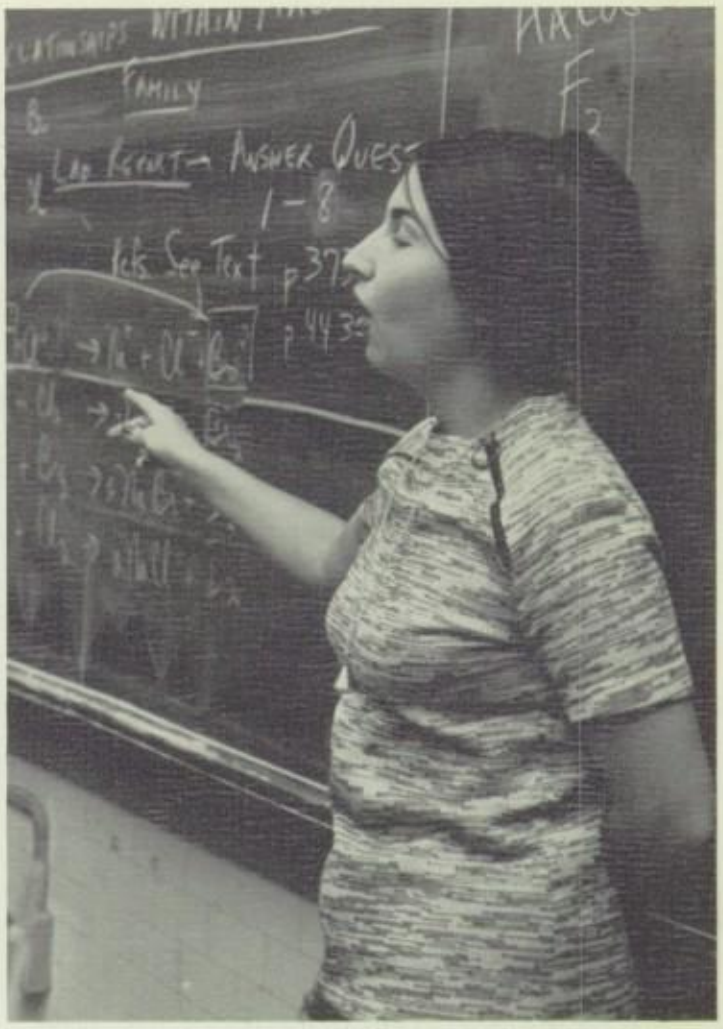


"Vee have vays . . . "



"Now where's the other guy who didn't laugh at my joke."

"Certainly, Mr. Potell, I understand. Today we will abbreviate the regular extended prefect period. Tomorrow, we will follow Friday's schedule, but from now on, every Monday will be a Wednesday except when a Thursday falls on the last day of the month. When that happens, Monday's regular prefect period . . ."



"I don't understand why you people are having trouble. I can do this stuff with my eyes closed."

"You've got to be kidding!!"

Famous Last Words

Mr. Ali: If you're good. I'll sing for you.

Miss Reformato: This girl's gonna blow her top.

Mr. Sippin: Have a happy!

Mr. Richman: Does anybody think they know the answer? . . . Does anybody here think?

Mr. Platner: Thanks for Ptolemy.

Mr. P. L. Cohen: Sweep to my revenge . . . Grun Tu Molani.

Mr. Hook: The following people . . .

Mr. Tarangelo: Give that girl a check.

Mr. Slosberg: This will only take a minute.

Mr. Zinman: No matter how you slice it, it's still baloney!

Mrs. Stern: Put a lot of UMPH into it!

Miss Stember: People, you're giving me a monumental headache!

Mr. Winkler: . . . and so, if you're not here tomorrow, don't worry about it. We'll be doing the same thing on Friday.

Mr. Midler: There are five minutes left in this lunch period so clean up please.

Mr. S. Cohen: . . . and that's another thing about this modern generation, when I was your age . . .

Mr. Perkus: Bring all your brains tomorrow.

Mr. Falcone: That's one.

Mr. Citron: SHUT UP!!!

Mr. Donlin: You're giving me acito of the brain.

Mrs. Sacks: C'mon girls!!!

Mrs. Baker: Do you see it?

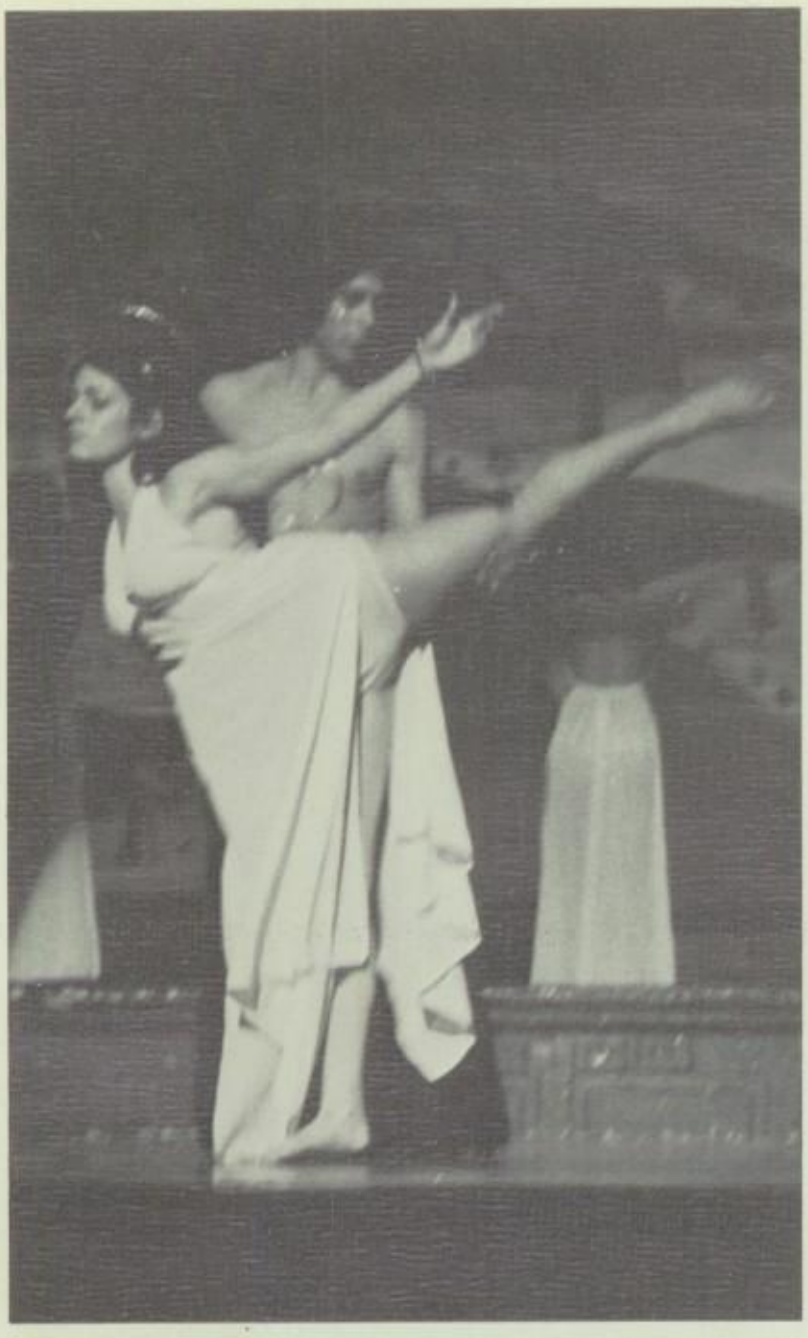
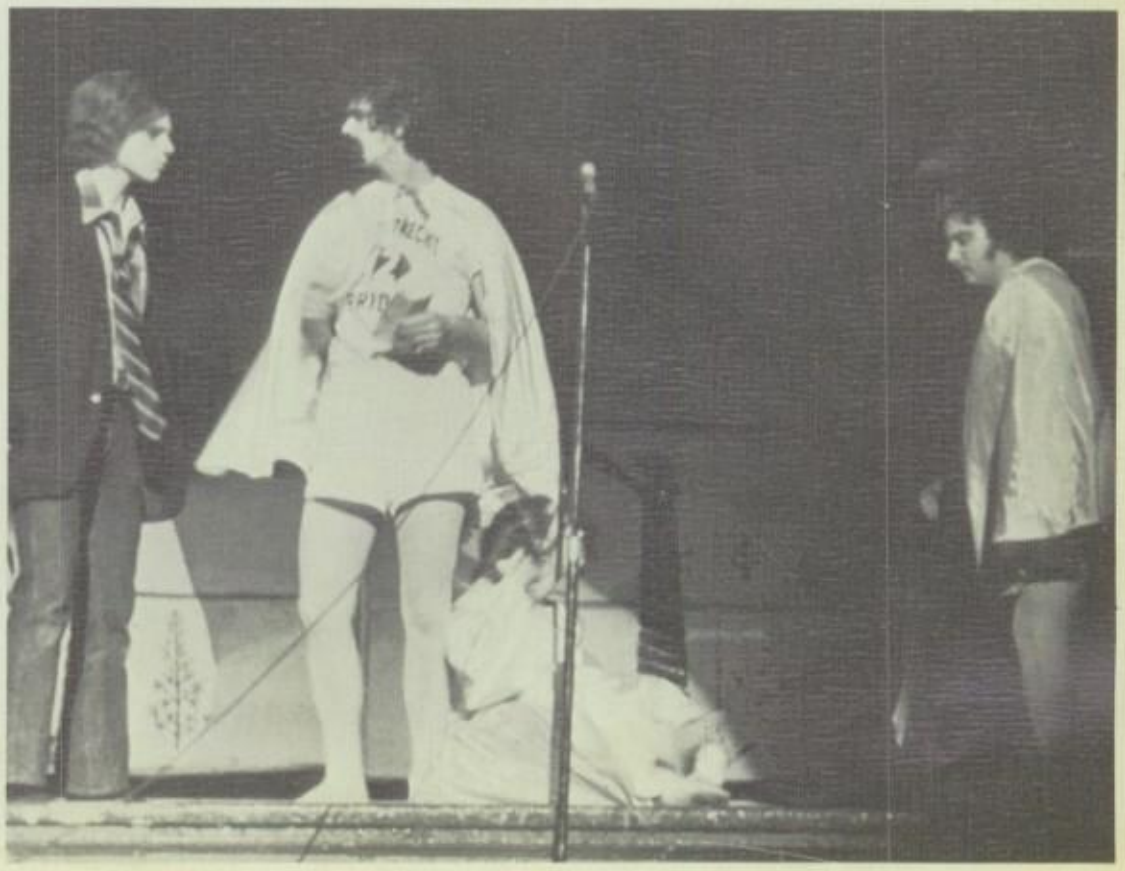
Senior Sing '73





Senior Sing Alma Mater

(Tune: "Time in a Bottle")

The end of our Sing is approaching
As our final curtain descends.
We will share memories till eternity passes away as our years linger on.
Our hearts beat with joy and with sorrow.
We are filled with tearful regrets
That we bid farewell to New Utrecht
Because we have lived in brotherhood here.
As the sunlight shines upon our faces
you can detect the mystery of our future.
The glowing stars caress the earth as our minds think of all we've been through.
Soon SENIOR SING will be behind us.
We hope that our dream will come true.
Our lives would be empty
if not for the victory of
SENIOR SING — final to us.
But our friendships seem to carry on for the four years we have been together — united.
With pain inside we say goodbye.
But in our hearts we know that we've touched
YOU!

"Night in the City"

Light up light up
Light up your lazy blue eyes
Moon's up night's up
Taking the town by surprise
Night time night time
Day left an hour ago
City light time
Must you get ready so slow
There are places to come from and places to go

Night in the city looks pretty to me
Night in the city looks fine
Music comes spilling out into the street
Colors go flashing in time

Take off take off
Take off those stay-at-home blues
Break off shake off
Take off those stay-at-home blues
Stairway stairway
Down to the crowds in the street
They go their way
Looking for faces to greet
But we run on laughing
with no one to meet

Night in the city looks pretty to me
Night in the city looks fine
Music comes spilling out into the street
Colors go waltzing in time.

"Who do you think you are, Mister — the chairman of the Math Department?"

"Stories of the Street"

The stories of the street are mine
The Spanish voices laugh
The Cadillacs go creeping down
Through the night and the poison gas.
I lean from my window sill
In this hotel I chose
One hand on my suicide
One hand on the rose

I know you've heard it's over now
And war must surely come
The cities they are broke in half
And the middle men are gone
But let me ask you one more time
O, children of the dust,
All these hunters who are shrieking now
Do they speak for us?

And where do all these highways go
Now that we are free?
Why are the armies marching still
That were coming home to me?
O, lady with your legs so fine
O, stranger at your wheel
You are locked into your suffering
And your pleasures are the seal.

The age of lust is giving birth
And both the parents ask
The nurse to tell them fairy tales
On both sides of the glass
Now the infant with his cord
Is hauled in like a kite
And one eye filled with blueprints
One eye filled with night.

O, come with me my little one
And we will find that farm
And grow us grass and apples there
And keep all the animals warm
And if by chance I wake at night
And I ask you who I am
O, take me to the slaughter house
I will wait there with the lamb.

With one hand on a hexagram
And one hand on a girl
I balance on a wishing well
That all men call the world
We are so small between the stars
So large against the sky
And lost among the subway crowds
I try to catch your eye

Senior Memories

It was hard, but now I really feel we ve made it . . . Coming here in my dress and the Seniors looking down calling me Freshy. And now, the opposite . . . Waiting for your section to be called . . . Sophomore year of Italian. Never in my life have I experienced such chaos and agony . . . If you think you'll beat Utrecht on the field today. # ?$ & you . . . Citron's screaming . . . 79th Street cut out alley . . . Coming out of the bathroom smelling like a cigarette when you don't smoke . . . Long and tedious Sing meetings . . . Mary's stick . . . Smoking in the bushes at County Fair! . . . The time I saw a couple of my gym teachers have a fight in my gym class . . . Basketball games: a rope, a tree, let's hang the referee . . . Mr. Ali singing and dancing in his classroom . . . Twenty people at a Utrecht concert . . . Lunch by the phone booth . . . Cutting classes . . . How scared I was the first day . . . Writing notes to each other on the soles of our shoes behind our teacher's back . . . All the times I couldn't find my classes . . . May I have your attention please, sorry to interrupt . . . The Italian regents and our professional job . . . The bathroom when you gotta go . . . The time I ranked out my teacher . . . My mother's face when she saw my first report card . . . Ringing the elevator bell twenty times when you know Mary's running it . . . Bring on the gymnastics team . . . Our Black Studies class which not only give us poise, purpose, and direction, but made us feel that all Black people must unite . . . Fire in the third floor bathroom . . . The football team, always losing, and then — A MIRACLE — they won every game . . . Mr. Goldfinger — O.K. everyone, big day. Lots of work to do . . . The Wambats . . . Mr. Kaplan's jokes . . . Regular, abbreviated, or extended homeroom schedule . . . My old teacher trying to dress up like a young chick . . . Messing around in the hallways . . . The sexiest grade adviser in the school . . . Booties in room 314 . . . Cleaning up County Fair mess . . . When Mr. Russo said I reminded him of his niece . . . Math team and all the problems I goofed up . . . Remember when the Utrecht basketball team won twenty games in a row and lost in the playoffs by one point . . . G. O. clique . . . My bowling team . . . The ugly faces staring at you during classes . . . The fifth floor bathroom . . . Getting dressed in gym during the blackout . . . A real nice human being, and a fine teacher — Mr. Friedman . . . Our whole lunch table turning into Santana and singing and banging on the table with our hairbrushes . . . The beautiful Sing we lost . . . Earn while you learn . . . Mrs. Scher, Mr. Goldfinger, Mr. Udewitz — doesn't anyone want the Agathon-Key club? . . . Remember Miss____bending over . . . The hot computer . . . passing football sheets . . . The time we put Valerie in the boys' locker with her bra on . . . Sitting outside near the fence . . . Mrs. Grillo's class . . . Hanging out in the G.O. office . . . Potato chip dandruff in the lunchroom . . . If life in Utrecht is a preview of the future, I'd probably drop out . . . Falling asleep in Economics . . . Trying to speak French but never quite succeeding . . . Mad dash between classes for a smoke . . . Simon and Garfunkel's "It's All Happening at the Zoo" . . . Sweet odor from the boys' third floor bathroom . . . Football victory parties . . . Making Boosters and paying dues the rest of your life . . . Beating Brooklyn Tech . . . Being cornered by four security guards . . . Tests, Regents, S.A.T., P.S.A.T., Back-up Exams . . . Making friends that we will keep and cherish . . . Graduation.

"Bridge Over Troubled Water"

When you're weary, feeling small,
When tears are in your eyes, I will dry them all;
I'm on your side. When times get rough
And friends just can't be found,
Like a bridge over troubled water
I will lay me down.

When you're down and out,
When you're on the street,
When evening falls so hard
I will comfort you.
I'll take your part.
When darkness comes
And pain is all around,
Like a bridge over troubled water
I will lay me down.
Like a bridge over troubled water
I will lay me down.

Sail on silvergirl,
Sail on by.
Your time has come to shine.
All your dreams are on their way.
See how they shine.
If you need a friend
I'm sailing right behind.
Like a bridge over troubled water
I will ease your mind.
Like a bridge over troubled water
I will ease your mind.

Instructions: Fill in each of the following sentences with the word that best completes the sentence.

During the past _____(three, four, five)_____(cheerful, tearfull, fearful) years, we have obtained many impressions of our teachers. When we leave this____(monarchistic, anarchistic, bureaucratic, erratic) place, we_____(would, wouldn't, should, shouldn't, could, couldn't, might) like some of our teachers to have something to remember us by. Therefore we are offering these tokens of _____(appreciation, depreciation, happiness, sadness, madness, gladness) for them to cherish:

Mr. Aiello — Fingers that work.
Mrs. Baker — A class that can write 100 words per minute.
Mrs. Campanaro — A class of Passionate Victorians.
Mr. Citron — An organized Photography Club.
Mr. P.L. Cohen — A hundred pages of ads for Spiral.
Mr. S. Cohen — A guide to understanding the modern generation.
Mr. Dimentstein — A recording of all the lines he blew.
Mrs. Entin — A COMET staff who talks english good.
Mrs. Epstein — A cigarette lounge all to herself.
Mr. Falcone — A computer that doesn't overheat.
Mr. Feingold — A pair of glasses that stay on his nose.
Mr. P. Friedman — An "Academy Award" for his impersonations.
Miss J. Goldberg — A goodluck charm.
Mr. Halioua — A recording of English Pronounciations.
Mr. Hook — An organized closet.
Mr. Jacobowitz — A take home test.
Mr. Lehrman — 4,863 Varsity Show rehearsals.
Mrs. Mosholt — A Jackie Onassis original.
Mr. Murray — An assortment of hairclips.
Mr. Perkus — Two Calculus classes instead of one.
Mr. Platner — The #1 Math Team in the city.
Mrs. Rosenbaum — A bigger NUHS office.
Mr. Sadowsky — A centerfold of himself in Playgirl.
Mrs. Shaeffer — An exam-PULL!
Mr. Sippin — A normal tieclip.
Mr. Slosberg — A long course in short speech making.
Mrs. Stern — A lifetime supply of sugarless gum.
Mr. Udewitz — A willing audience for his acting.
Mr. Weinzweig — A map that fits the lesson.
Dr. Weiss — A good dirty joke. Hee Hee!!
Mr. Zinman — A dozen law books in Latin abbreviations.

"Beautiful City"

Come sing me sweet rejoicing,
Come sing me love.
We're not afraid of voicing
All the things we're dreaming of.
Oh, high and low and everywhere we go.

We can build a beautiful city
Yes we can; yes we can;
We can build a beautiful city
Call it out and call it the city of Man.

Come sing me sweet rejoicing,
Come sing me love.
We're not afraid of voicing
All the things we're dreaming of.
Oh, high and low and everywhere we go.

We don't need alabaster,
We don't need chrome.
We've got that special plaster,
Take my hand, I'll take you home.
We see nations rise in each other's eyes.

We can build a beautiful city
Yes we can; yes we can;
We can build a beautiful city
Call it out and call it the city of Man.
